

Family Planning promotes responsibility

The Philippines has a very young population.

But every year, hundreds of young people die. Not from drunk driving. Not from drugs. Not from violence.

But from abortion. Not from complications related to pregnancy.

By addressing behavior and norms, we can help young people become sexually responsible.

